Emergency Medical Services (EMS) Funding Assistance Change

Current Language

s.20.435(5)(ch)
s.146.55 (5)
s. 146.58 (7)

Proposed Change

1. Amend s.20.435 (5)(ch) and s.146.55 (5) to allow the Department to give funds for emergency medical technician (EMT) training to ambulance service providers. The providers would use these funds to pay for their required training costs directly. (Under current law, the Department pays the entities which provide these training courses.)
2. Amend s.146.58(7) to provide that the Emergency Medical Services (EMS) Board recommend the formula to be used to distribute training funds to ambulance providers.
3. Require ambulance service providers to file expenditure reports for training funds.

Effect of the Change

Currently, the Department reimburses technical colleges and other entities that provide EMT training on a case-by-case basis, as individual emergency medical technicians complete training courses. As a result of this change, the Department will allocate all EMT training funds directly to ambulance providers. Ambulance providers will pay for their own training costs as they are incurred.

Rationale for the Change

Current law directs the Department to pay for any training costs which EMS providers incur by directly paying the entity (usually a technical college) where the training has occurred. The program budgets approximately $800,000 annually for this purpose. This current system of reimbursement is inefficient, labor-intensive and not a good use of scarce departmental resources.

With this statutory language change, the Department will be able to allocate training funds directly to ambulance providers. Ambulance providers would then pay for their training costs as they are incurred. There would be no change in the amount of funding allocated for training.

This initiative will allow the Department to streamline its administrative procedures and reduce internal costs associated with this program. Ambulance providers and training centers will also benefit by having a direct payment method, which will reduce administrative costs and the amount of time that may now elapse between training and payment.

This statutory language change requires the EMS Advisory Board to recommend a formula for the distribution of training funds to ambulance providers. The EMS Advisory Board is required to advise and make recommendations to the Department about funding for EMS services, so this requirement is consistent with the current duties of the Board. The EMS Board is supportive of this statutory language change.

In addition to training funds, the Department allocates supplemental funds to ambulance service providers for equipment and supplies. Ambulance providers are required to report expenditures to the Department as a condition of receiving these funds. Providers may retain unspent funds between fiscal years in order to accumulate enough funding for large capital purchases. This language change proposes that providers be required to file expenditure reports for training funds as well. Unspent training funds will be treated in the same way that other unspent allocations are and providers will be allowed to retain these funds for future needs.

Under current law, DHFS makes grants to entities, including technical colleges, to provide training programs and examinations that fulfill the emergency medical technician basic licensure and relicensure requirements.

The bill further requires ambulance service providers to report to DHFS on expenditures of the funds as a condition of relicensure and requires the Emergency Medical Services Board to recommend a formula for disbursing the training and examination funds among ambulance service providers.

Since this bill discontinues the DHFS payment of training aid to the technical colleges, should the cross-reference to s. 146.55 (5) in s. 38.28 (1m) (a) be deleted, or should I recharacterize the revenue from training as a fee paid by ambulance service providers? In this draft, I deleted the reference, because I think that the fees that ambulance service providers would pay to the technical colleges for training under the bill would be covered under s. 38.12 (3), which is already excluded from the definition of "district aidable costs." Under current law, DHFS makes grants to entities, including technical colleges, to provide training programs and examinations that fulfill the emergency medical technician — basic licensure and relicensure requirements.

This bill directs DHFS to provide the emergency medical technician — basic training and examination funding to ambulance service providers rather than the entities that provide the training and administer the examinations. The bill further requires ambulance service providers to report to DHFS on expenditures of the funds as a condition of relicensure and requires the Emergency Medical Services Board to recommend a formula for disbursing the training and examination funds among ambulance service providers.
